COVER DESCRIPTION

OUTSIDE FRONT: Our cover is in black, rather than the normal blue, in memorial to Mr. Kurt Hasten. It features a blow-up of UNNY Scott #109, which was originally issued as a mourning stamp after the loss of Secretary-General Dag Hammerskjold. It is being used on this issue to commemorate the recent loss of Mr. Kurt Hasten. Kurt was a long time member of the regional Western Arm of the UNP and more recently a member of the UNP.

He was well known on the West Coast for his travelling sales stock where one could almost always find a nice tid-bit or two for one's collection. Sometimes one had to haggle a bit to find a satisfactory price, but most of us relished the opportunity to "do battle" with Kurt.

Kurt was born in 1925, survived the Nazi's coming to power and fled to Palestine in 1938. He fought in World War 2 in the Palestine Brigade of the British Army and with the highly decorated Givati Brigade of Israel during the 1948 war of independence.

Kurt was killed in an auto accident with his son Michael. He is survived by his wife Barbara and younger son, Josh.

OUTSIDE BACK: UNP Auction Results from 1993A & 1993B.

EDITOR'S CORNER

This August issue should be reaching you sometime in Mid to late September. Due to the very unfortunate occurance that the printing firm that does our publication went belly-up without telling us and we were left with no one to print our August issue.

After spending almost three weeks trying to find a new printing firm that wasn't going to charge us two or three times what we were paying before, we located a new firm in late August that will do the work for about the same price as the old firm. And this firm has been in business for almost twenty years so I do not expect that problem to reoccur, at least as long as I plan on remaining editor.

We are still short of material for the Journal. With a large auction, I barely stretched the issue to twelve pages. If you, as members, want to see larger issues than I encourage all of you to contribute a written article or other item for publication.

AUCTION INFORMATION

By Alex Bereson

As this issue goes to press, your Auction Chairperson was laid-off his high-tech job of five plus years. After the initial shock, I tried to think of some consolations to temporary unemployment.

One of the first "benefits" I thought of was the ability to devote more time to my often-neglected collection. Philately is an underrated pursuit which has brought me great enjoyment through the years and it will be a pleasure to get back into the "swing-of-things" during this period of time.

Looking at our newest auction you will see lots of interesting items - maybe the gem you have been searching for is hidden in this month's auction? So take a detailed look and Happy hunting!

THE PRESIDENT'S PAGE

By Clayton Wallace

While under the ocean at 20,000 fathoms in my private submarine, I took a moment from searching for the Titanic, and I wrote this very short column

This is going to be a very short column. Plans are moving ahead with the planning for the next annual meeting at the ASDA Postage Stamp Mega-Event at the Jacob J. Javits Convention Center. Planning for our participation has been assigned to Mr. Stephen Cohen of New York, New York.

Those you know Steve (Mr. U.N. Peacekeeping) will know that we are in for lots of surprises at our upcoming meeting.

I hope all is well with our members and look forward to seeing many of you at our upcoming meeting in New York City.

2ND VIENNA DEFINITIVE REPRINTED

By Duane E. Lamers

In the August/October 1991 issue of the Journal, this writer alerted the readers to the imminent arrival of the second printing of the one-Schilling Vienna definitive. The first announcement had appeared in the April 1991 UNPA Press Release #221 of the Geneva office.

Then silence. Nothing. Rien. Nichts - Until May 1993. It has been learned that the UNPA released a reprint of Scott #2 on March 29, 1993 in a quantity of 300,000 stamps.

The stamp design is a familiar one, collectors will recall. It first appeared out of New York in 1962 (Scott #105) showing the U.N. flag flapping in the wind surrounded by the term "United Nations" in the five official languages (before the addition of Arabic). The stamp was reprinted once.

The same flag and inscriptions against a different background was produced in 1969 - this time as part of the first issues of the stamps for the Geneva office. Again there was one reprint of this issue.

The flag travelled to Vienna in 1979, where it has since flown on a stamp from the first issues of that office. It is now slightly larger with the flag flying against a different background. The term "United Nations" only appears in German.

For some reason the flag on all three stamps never approximates the color of the real thing. What we have is a blue-green flag.

Courvoisier produced the Geneva and Vienna stamps. As usual, the reprints are near-perfect replicas of the originals. The paper of the reprint seems slightly whiter, but the difference is not obvious.

The blue background seems slightly glossy this time. This is also true for the dark shadows on the flag - a bit glossier than on the original. Gloss is noted this time on the inscription as well. The flag of the reprint seems slightly lighter in shade; but, again, the difference is not obvious.

The most striking difference appears under UV light. The reprint is on the reddish-violet virtually non-fluorescent paper, again containing a sprinkling of irregularly-shaped bright yellow fibers. The paper of the original is low or medium fluorescent and grayish white.

For most of us the UV lamp will be needed to make an identification, especially if a specimen of the other printing is not at hand.

Speaking of flags: Are we to expect Flag Series II? Perhaps this time the UNPA will have mercy on our wallets and issue them in one-schlling denominations or .09 cents per stamp! Happy collecting.

AT ISSUE

By Mark Steven Corrinet

Rather than complain about something, I want to point out to my readers a service that I think is both convenient and inexpensive to use - Arleigh Gaines' authentication service.

At just one percent (1%) of Gaines catalog value with a minimum of $5.00 per certificate (which covers about 95% of all the items listed in Gaines) this is a bargin for U.N. collectors.

No one questions that Arleigh has one of the finest overall reference collections in the world, and to the best of my knowledge, no one has found a error with one of Arleigh's certificates. In fact, more and more one is seeing items offered for sale with the notation of a "Gaines certificate included." I forsee a time in the not to distant future when a higher priced, or easily forged, U.N. item will require a Gaines certificate or suffer a much lower sale price.

Because of this, for anything that could be faked, or any item over the value of $50.00, I would strongly suggest you take the small amount of time and effort to use Arleigh's authentication services.

All items should be sent, securely packaged, by insured or registered mail to Arleigh Gaines, Post Office Box 1032, New York, New York 10028. Along with the prepayment of the authentication fee for examining the item sufficient funds should also be provided to return the items by either registered or insured mail.

Although no special form is required, general background information about the item is helpful. Also specify whether you wish a photo of the item sent with the certificate. The cost is same so I suggest that you do so.

After the authentication process is completed that item will be returned with his certificate, including a full description of the item, it's current catalog number, and an opinion of authenticity. If Arleigh is unable to render an opinion, the fee amount will be returned with the item.

Incidentally, when you receive copies of old certificates make sure that the photograph is securely attached, NOT REATTACHED, and that the certificate matches the item purchased. I have had no trouble having a certificate reissued by Arleigh for a small fee.

UNOP MEETING IN WINTERTHUR, SWITZERLAND

By Richard Powers

The 1993 annual meeting of the UNO-Philatelic, the German-speaking United Nations collectors group was timed to take place on May 8th and 9th during WIBRA (Winterthur-Briefmarken-Ausstellung), which served as the venue for the third joint exhibition of the philatelic societies of Austria, Germany and Switzerland (TRILATERALE 93). This year a five-day philatelic exhibition took place in Winterthur, Switzerland. Earlier shows in this series took place in Salzburg, Austria in 1988 and in Wuerzburg, Germany in 1991.

As in previous years the UNPA offices in Vienna and Geneva sent representatives to the show and issued a joint blue/white card. The show cancel from Vienna pictured the Stadthaus (City Hall) in Winterthur; the Geneva cachet pictures the towers of the Stadtkirche (Municipal Church) in the host city. Winterthur itself is a lovely city located about thirty miles north of Zurich. For a city with only 88,000 residents it has an impressive number of museums and art galleries and its own resident opera company.

The actual host for the UNOP meeting was the Swiss UN Collectors group (a national chapter of the UNOP members). This year marks the 20th anniversary of the Swiss chapter, which organizes its own meetings at least twice a year.

The UNOP annual meeting began on Saturday afternoon (May 8th) at 2:00 P.M. with a meeting of the League of Nations working group, which is currently preparing a monograph on the postal history of the League of Nations. They are assembling a sizable depository of photocopies of League covers. Efforts are being made to associate the various League programs and divisions with these covers.

Ninety minutes later the main meeting began and included a discussion concerning membership dues and future annual meeting venues. The recent increase in postal rates in Germany has created a need to raise yearly dues. However, a final discussion and vote will not be taken before 1994 during the annual meeting in Essen. San Francisco is seriously being considered as a possible site for the 1995 meeting in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. In a subsequent year (1996?) the UNOP is considering holding its yearly meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, if a sufficiently interesting occasion can be found to justify the additional travel distance for the majority of the members. In 1979 the UNOP had its meeting in Geneva on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of U.N. Geneva stamps. The favorable memories of this meeting have encouraged the officers to try to organize a reprise at the Palais des Nations (UN European Headquarters).

Then came the UNOP-Auction, which this year was organized by Dr. Alfons Hintermann, a full time physicist with the Department of Energy and Economics in Switzerland and a part-time specialized U.N. dealer. The auction consisted of 332 lots. The most expensive lot (#300) went for Sfr 1050 which corresponds to about $700 at the current exchange rate of US$1.00 for each Sfr 1,50. The lot consisted of a service cover bearing a C3 Prussian Blue variety. Lot #117, a FDC of US Scott #928 on official UN conf. stationery brought Sfr 850. A League of Nations parcel card with five Sfr 1,5 stamps (Gaines #24) went for Sfr 960. Fortunately for yours truly there were some lots that went for less money.

As always the highlight of the meeting was the banquet held later that evening at the Wartmann Hotel. For four hours we dined on good food and hearty Swiss wine.

The following morning Niklaus Mutti gave a lecture on thematic collecting of United Nations stamps.

Sunday afternoon the UNPA awarded its special (circulating) prize in Winterthur for the third time. This prize shown below is valued at $4000.00 and is awarded to the exhibitor who best illustrates through philatelic display the ideals and objectives of the United Nations. This year's recipient was Siegfried Adler for his exhibit "United Nations Emergency Force."

As usual I left this UNOP meeting with many happy memories of time well spent exchanging ideas on UN philately (and a couple of neat covers as well!) I also finally got to meet the faces behind exhibits that I have admired in such places as Paris, Berlin and State College.

UNITED NATIONS LITERATURE

By Mark Steven Corrinet

I have had several requests by members to list items in this new section of the UNP Journal. So effective immediately any member may send any literature they have for sale to Mark Steven Corrinet, Post Office Box 1305, Benicia, CA 94510-4305, USA.

Please enclose a list of the contents along with the price the item is being offered at. I will generally try to run the item until it sells, but in no case more than four issues. The club will take a 10% cut on any sales, the funds to be given to the general fund.

Anything that is a document or publication may be listed in this section of the Journal. Do not send any philatelic items, those belong in the auction run by Alex Bereson (see address later in this issue). Runs of other club publications, documents from the United Nations, the League of Nations or their related agencies, books about the U.N., League, etc., old Borak or Lindner catalogs or other similar material would be perfect for this section.

Condition and completeness are very important. Missing or badly damaged pages tend to remove the value of a particular item.

Do not send runs of the UNP Journal or copies of Gaines Catalogues. I will list such an offering, but I do not wish to have my home filled up with these items. Incidentally, the going price for a complete run of UNP Journals is currently around $75.

If you have questions about pricing please feel free to call me any evening at (707) 747-1481. I will assist you as best as I can.

NATIONS UNIES
ОБЪЕДИНЕННЫЕ НАЦИИ

Originally, the concept of a "United Nations" was militarily oriented: a group of nations united in their opposition to the tyranny of the Axis powers. It was the Moscow Declaration of October 30, 1942 that the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, and China asserted that "their united action" would be continued in an organization for peace after the conclusion of World War II. A conference to draft the charter of this organization was held in San Francisco beginning on April 25, 1945.

The first United Nations postage stamp, pictured above, shows a group of five persons representing the principle races of mankind looking toward the United Nations emblem rising over a peaceful and prosperous landscape. The stamp was designed by O.C. Meronti of Great Britain.
